

Abigail Wilpers, PhD, WHNP-BC

Dr. Abigail Wilpers completed her MSN and PhD at YSN. She is a women's health nurse and a Postdoctoral Research Fellow in the National Clinician Scholars Program here at Yale. She practices and conducts research in the field of maternal-fetal surgery. As a member of the Fetal Care Center team at Yale New Haven Hospital, Dr. Wilpers has cared for women and families whose pregnancies are complicated by fetal anomalies. She is active in national and international professional organizations and she serves on the Board of Directors of Hope After Loss, a non-profit organization that supports local families experiencing pregnancy or infant loss. Dr. Wilpers' presentation is entitled, "The Parental Journey of Fetal Care: A Systematic Review and Meta-Synthesis"